

THE SIOUX CHEF™

Tuesday, May 16, 2017

To whom it may concern:

Our team, The Sioux Chef, traveled from the US to Tours, France to represent Minneapolis in a multi day sister city event. The scope of the event was massive, as it was a faceted event with several cultural sensitivities such as French culture, Native American, kitchen and chef, and music industry. Britta was assigned to our team to manage our integration into this project. Not only did she manage the translations between all stakeholders in the project, but she did so with absolute ease. Furthermore, she used her knowledge and network to essentially act as agent and PR representative to increase our visibility in the event. Her assistance helped not only our company, but the entire event benefitted from the additional visibility.

Words literally can't express how effective the work of International sur Loire was for our time at this event. Britta is incredibly thoughtful, emotionally intelligent, cool headed, and a treasure for anyone that is fortunate enough to work with her. First class!
